METSIT 00Z 27-May High pressure into the southeast Pacific / Bellingshausen Sea, in conjunction with low pressure south east of Argentina continues to produce strong SW'erly winds and seas over the Tierra del Fuego region. Expect partly to mostly cloudy skies, with brief, rain/snow showers early in the forecast and again as you arrive at your destination.

FORECASTER NOTES Winds/seas may differ from those forecast due to funneling/sheltering effects of islands. Forecast based on ARR 28/12Z per 24 MAY 2021 email.
