SURFACE FORECAST 2-Mar-2023 06Z

METSIT 21Z

28-Feb

Overall, pleasant conditions continue for that part of the area. Cloudy skies, with intermittent rain for much of the forecast period as a trough of low pressure passes through. Winds will pick up slightly as a low skirts by north of your path, heading northeast, interacting with the high pressure still located in the Weddell Sea. However, winds may differ due to funneling/sheltering effects of the islands.
